Application for Priority Access to Social Housing in Gippsland - Preferred Locations

*When applying for social housing applicants can choose to list between one and 5 waiting list areas. This means that when reporting on this data, up to 5 waiting list areas may be counted for one application. On average, an applicant selects 2 to 3 location preferences. As a result, the total number of preferences will always be higher than the total number of applications on the Victorian Housing Register.
